Jeff Altman has been successfully engaged in the mortgage finance industry since 1992. He is licensed through the California Department of Real Estate and has instructed numerous courses and seminars since that time.

Jeff has helped hundreds of families in purchasing and refinancing their homes. Working exclusively from referrals, his satisfied clients have contributed to his continued success. His communication skills, his knowledge of the mortgage industry and his honesty are what sets him apart and earns him a solid reputation throughout the State of California and predominantly in Orange County.

Jeff has been particularly effective in establishing long-term relationships with Realtors, Attorneys, Law Enforcement, Accountants and Business Owners.

Aside from the mortgage industry, Jeff is a dedicated husband to his wife Kimi for over 30 years as well as a supportive dad to their two boys, Shayne and Cody. If you were to ask Jeff what his biggest accomplishment was in life, he would reply with a huge grin "His Family". Other loves in his life are animals, which he and his family have adopted many, sports of any kind and most of all his beloved "St. Louis Cardinals Baseball". Jeff has an incredible collection of Cardinals memorabilia which is adorned throughout their home. Jeff has also founded the "Kurt Schoor Memorial Fund" which he started 20 years ago after losing his best friend at the age of 32. The fund raises money for scholarships to grant children scholarships to fulfill their dreams in what they would like to become in life.

Integrity, honesty and hard work are the qualities that every client can expect to receive from Jeff Altman.
